TEAM ALBERTA

Team Alberta will compete in the 2018 Special Olympics Canada Summer Games in Antigonish from July 31 to August 4 and 2018 Special Olympics Canada Bowling Championship in PEI from May 13 to 17. Team Alberta is 134 athletes and 50 coaches and mission staff representing communities across Alberta.

Team Alberta represents our province's talent, determination and passion.

Team Alberta is a supportive environment where all members have the opportunity to excel to reach their personal goals and contribute to the overall success of the team. Leading up to the National Games, athletes and coaches have committed to a regimen of training, diet and learning new skills or techniques. Team Alberta will work tirelessly, make sacrifices and will have a full commitment for the benefit of the team. They do this to represent our province proudly.

"Team Alberta is dedication. It is the early morning training and practices on a Saturday when all you want to do is sleep in. Team Alberta is courage. It is our athletes striving to be their best and will show the country their ability, not disability. We are Team Alberta and we want to share the power of possibilities."

– Jill Moore,
Team Alberta Chef de Mission

APRIL LAM

Team Alberta Profile

Sport: Swimming
Hometown: Edmonton
Age: 23
Nickname: Appie Poo

With Michael Phelps as her role model, April has big dreams with swimming.

Her coaches say that she has an inherent love for sports. She swims with focus and commitment which can be seen with her training regimen of swimming four to five times a week when she was part of Team Canada in 2015.

As a seasoned athlete, April is stepping up with her leadership and taking on a role as a mentor for athletes. It's quite common to see her cheer, encourage and support her fellow swimmers at the pool.

April will be heading to Nova Scotia to dive into full competition with the hopes she will be able to make Team Canada again.

"I like Special Olympics because it boosts my confidence and I get to meet a lot of new people from around the province and around the country"- April Lam
