

Newmont[™]
CANADA
INVITATIONAL

For many Special Olympics athletes, the pain of exclusion was already far too familiar. The pandemic has been cutting them off from regular access to the Special Olympics community that is critical to their health and happiness. For many athletes, Special Olympics is the only place where they have friends, where they are active and healthy, and where they are first and foremost seen for their abilities and talents.

Throughout its history, the Newmont Invitational has been known for its premium golf experience and its power to make a difference for Special Olympics BC's inspiring athletes and empowering programs. Too often, people with intellectual disabilities are forgotten and left behind by our society, and the pandemic has intensified their isolation. The 2021 Newmont Invitational will be your opportunity to make a critical difference in the lives of athletes who rely on Special Olympics for sport, health, skill building, and most of all, friendships.

While the 2020 tournament had to be cancelled due to the pandemic, the 2021 event will be better than ever before. On September 10, the 2021 Newmont Invitational will take place in person at its traditional home at Northview Golf & Country Club .

Your donation to the 2021 Newmont Invitational will help reunite friends on the playing fields as soon as safely possible.
