The 1993 Zone 1 Mini Winter Games are to be held this weekend, Feb. 19-21. There is available space in many sports and the Zone 1 Sports Council encourages all Zone 1 residents to register in this exciting winter event.

The Mini Games are slated in "off" Saskatchewan Games years to provide a quality level of competition similar to that of the Saskatchewan Games. They serve as a stepping stone to athletes for the zone playoffs next fall; athletes who hope to represent Zone 1 in Kinderley next winter.

There are many sports to choose from including badminton, bowling, cross-country skiing, curling, bantam hockey, girls' hockey, speed skating, karate and volleyball. Special Olympics sports include bowling, cross-country skiing and speed skating. Demonstration sports include boxing, gymnastics, figure skating and wrestling. Contact the Zone 1 office at 429-2205 for more information and a technical package.

Spectators are welcome to all events — a $5 button admits you to all events and ceremonies, and can be purchased at all venues. Opening ceremonies will begin at 7 p.m., Feb. 19 at the Redvers Recreation Centre.

Two more NCCP clinics have been scheduled in Zone 1: March 19, 20 and 21 in Gainsborough and April 23, 24 and 25 in Estevan. Contact the Zone 1 office for more information or to register (429-2205).

A free beginners' synchronized swimming clinic will take place at the Weyburn Leisure Centre, March 16 from 4 to 6:30 p.m. Synchro Saskatchewan's technical director, Trina Glass, will be on hand to introduce any girls or boys (preferably of maroon level or higher) to the sport of synchro. Contact the leisure centre at 848-3280 for more information.
