The sale of hot dogs and soft drinks at a fund-raising promotion realized $258.50 for the Special Olympics Torch Run which started this morning in front of city hall.

The hot dogs and drinks were sold in front of the Canadian Imperial Bank of Commerce Building on June 3. Present for the sale were Clark McClelland of the Estevan Police Service, Dave Silversides, an Estevan conservation officer, and bank employees Connie Wallace and Wendy Fedyk.

McClelland said $30 of the money raised came in the form of pledges.

The Torch Run, a co-ordinated effort by policemen and police women across the province, raises money for the Special Olympics.

Last year the Torch Run netted more than $68,000 with about $4,600 of it raised locally.
