

Games flag raised

Mayor Arnold Orr joined with the 1993 Saskatchewan Special Olympics Winter Games co-chairmen, Darren Whitehead and Roger Vogelsang, in raising the Special Olympics flag over Games headquarters.

The North East Leisure Centre will be the hub of activities throughout the February 12th to 14th weekend.

Over one hundred Special Olympics athletes are to arrive to compete in downhill skiing, cross country skiing, figure skating, snowshoeing, and speed skating.

The Opening Ceremonies, open to the general public, are set for Friday evening at 7:30 p.m. at the Leisure Centre.

The Games themselves start Saturday morning. The Closing Ceremonies, a banquet, and a dance will fill Saturday's program.

The athletes, coaches and managers leave Sunday for home.
