Thanks to the generous support of Nipawin residents, law enforcement officers in the area have to date raised more than $1,500 for Special Olympics by participating in the Saskatchewan Law Enforcement Torch Run fundraising campaign.

This year across Saskatchewan, in excess of 800 law enforcement officers from over 25 departments ran routes through out the province which totalled 1,300 km and raised $70,000. While the final tally of donating is not known, organizers anticipate higher totals in all categories.

"The success of this run in support of Special Olympics is entirely due to the overwhelming backing our runners got from local residents and merchants," said Cst. T.J. Popp.

"The cooperation of the community in this run just shows what we can do when we work together."

It's not to late to make a donation to Special Olympics. Contact Cst. T.J. Popp at the Nipawin detachment.
