Special Olympians compete in Regina

Prince Albert's Jason Ballantyne won a chest full of medals at the Saskatchewan Special Olympics Summer Games in Regina on the weekend.

Ballantyne won four gold medals, a silver and a bronze in the swimming events held at the University of Regina.

Local athletes Connie Rhodes and Ryan Roznowsky also brought back swimming medals for the Zone 8 team.

Rhodes won one gold, two silver and three bronze medals while Roznowsky claimed three bronze and one silver medals.

The 22-member Zone 8 track and field team was also very sharp, winning the grand aggregate trophy for the most overall points in the track events held at Douglas Park.
