The many faces of Special Olympians were evident Saturday at Douglas Park. Judy Tataquason of Zone 4 (Yorkton-Melville) won the women's level B 200-metre dash (left) during the track and field competition at the 1993

Saskatchewan Special Olympics Summer Games. Tataquason won her division with a time of 39.52 seconds. At centre, Michelle Stachysyn of Zone 2 (Regina) won the women's level B shot put with a toss of 4.75m. Not everyone can win a Leader-Post photos by Roy Antal gold medal, but that is not the goal of the Games, which are for people with a mental handicap. Eric Leniczek of Zone 4 (right) had a great time even though he placed fifth in the men's level D long jump with a leap of 2.06m.
