

V6317

Passing the torch

Law enforcement personnel make their way Thursday evening from SaskPlace to City Hall as part of their sixth annual torch run. Funds raised in the event — $64,000 last year — go to the Saskatchewan Special Olympics Society. More than 120 people from across the province take part in the three-day run. (SP Photo by Glen Berger)