

Santa Claus parade participants win prizes

They gathered four deep in places to watch the Santa Claus Parade Saturday downtown in Saskatoon.

Snow fell steadily as if to help dress up the Christmas trees on a few floats.

The parade was sponsored by the Midtown Plaza.

The Draggins Custom Car Club won the prize for best overall float. Sears won the commercial category, while SaskEnergy picked up an honorable mention.

In the novelty division, the Optimist Twirlers won and the Saskatoon Miracles got an honorable mention.

In the horse category, the Vanscoy Buckbrush Riding Club cleaned up, and the Western Development Museum landed an honorable mention.

The German Preschool won the ethnic award, and CFR Community Radio got an honorable mention.

The Saskatchewan Childcare Association won in the association division, and Special Olympics got an honorable mention.
