February is the month of new beginnings for everyone at Holy Cross. Students and staff will have the chance to begin anew this week as the second semester officially starts.

The band programs at Holy Cross are constantly beginning new projects, and this month is no exception. The eagerly awaited annual citrus drive has returned. These joyously juicy oranges and grapefruits can be purchased from a band student until Feb. 4. Anyone who is interested in supporting the band program by purchasing some fruit is encouraged to contact any band member or Mr. England immediately.

With the arrival of the new semester, students are reminded of the many clubs and groups at Holy Cross who are always looking for new members. Becoming a new member of a club is a great way to enter this new semester with enthusiasm and drive.

Students and staff are adjusting to a new routine as the second semester is now under way. Final exams ended last Tuesday with a brief preparation break to follow. The new semester began yesterday with students picking up their new schedules and finding their new classes. Students with scheduling conflicts are asked to see Student Services as soon as possible.

Report cards will be distributed to students this week. There is a strict appeals procedure that must be followed if students strongly and legitimately disagree with a mark received.

Grade 12 students applying for bursaries and scholarships are reminded of upcoming deadlines. Students may inquire with Student Services about application opportunities.

The spirit of an upcoming Valentine's Day is evident at BJMHS with the month's theme being "Love is in the air." Kiss-o-grams are on sale this week for 25 cents from the SRG. The SRG is also providing a matchmaking service again this year. Students fill out a questionnaire, the answers of each person are computed, and each person is matched to a list of most compatible people. The results are purely for fun and do not necessarily influence the future lives of the students. Students have the opportunity to purchase their result sheet from the SRG on Feb. 12 for $1. Kiss-o-grams will also be delivered on Feb. 12.

BJMHS debate teams are preparing for a tournament in North Battleford on Saturday. The resolution for this tournament has to do with official bilingualism. The debate teams are coached by Sr. Rose and Mme. Dahlem.

Students are beginning to adjust to their new class schedules as semester two begins. Book rentals will be at the school today and tomorrow. Students will be informed this week about the time changes in the school day that will be in effect next Monday.

Next week is Aden Bowman spirit week and the SRC has activities planned for each noon hour of the week. Some of these spirit week events include: Kereoke day, "Crazy Hairdo" day, a sock hop, a pep rally, "Jam the Gym" nights and Bowman's own version of the television show, "Studs."

The ABCI environment group will be attending the conference put on by the Saskatchewan Students for Environmental Action (SSEA) on the weekend of Feb. 6 and 7 at the YMCA. On Feb. 9 there will be speakers coming in to the environment group meeting to talk about alternate energy sources. Everyone is encouraged to come. On Feb. 12 the environment group will be putting on a sock hop during the lunch hour.

Every month, a sub-committee from the SRC selects a few students from the school as "Bear of the Month" to recognize their efforts or achievements in various areas. For the month of January, these people were chosen for the following reasons: Sean Wilson for winning two gold medals in a ski competition, Lee Beckman for his involvement in drama and Leon Ferguson for his contribution to school spirit.

NUTANA
